1. POLICY INTENT

To define the conditions relating to the provision of Local & Family History Services by the Tablelands Regional Library Service

2. SCOPE

This policy applies to all Local & Family History requests by TRC and Library staff, visitors and members of the Tablelands Regional Library Service.

The scope may be limited by budgetary considerations that limit staff availability to source published and unpublished material or provide general assistance with customer searches.

3. DEFINITION

The Local History area is defined as the Atherton Tablelands covered by the Tablelands Regional Library Service.

However relevant materials from surrounding shires may also be collected where there is local content.

Local history is the study of history in a geographically local context.

Local history concentrates on the cultural and social aspects of the local community.

Family history (including genealogy which traces lineages) is the systematic narrative and research of past events relating to a specific family, or specific families.

Linkage between Local and Family history

The Atherton Tablelands is home to people from many nations.

Families live their own lives in local areas while participating actively in the larger arenas of national and international history. There are very few historical events that do not affect family life.

Consequently local and family histories are inextricably linked. The Library Service seeks to collect, maintain and make available resources which allow our many communities to trace and document their history and families.

4. POLICY OBJECTIVES

The objective of this policy is:

- to define the level of Local & Family History services provided by Tablelands Regional Library Service
5. POLICY STATEMENT

The role of library staff in providing Local & Family History service is:

- to direct customers to likely sources of information within the library
- to refer difficult queries to the Local & Family History Librarian
- to refer customers to external online and print resources

6. LOCAL & FAMILY HISTORY MATERIALS

The Tablelands Regional Library Service provides a permanent collection of material relating to the Atherton Tablelands area. The service collects, preserves and makes accessible material that reflects the history and development of the area.

Tablelands Regional Library Local & Family History material is not for loan.

The Library Service has one major collection that is housed in Atherton Library.

Local & Family History collections held at other branches are stored with the branch Reference collection.

The size of branch Local & Family History material is dependant on space and the availability of relevant materials.

Tablelands Regional Library Local & Family History collection includes:

- Printed material in the form of books, magazines, maps and plans, newspapers, reports, posters
- Unpublished material such as manuscripts, scrapbooks and archival material including but not limited to minute books and records of local organisations
- Research databases, microfiche, microfilm, CD ROMs
- Online databases available include Ancestry and Find My Past and other internet resources
- A collection of photographs and photographic prints
- A vertical file of newspaper clippings and ephemera of local interest
7. LOCAL & FAMILY HISTORY SERVICES

The level of staff assistance provided for an enquiry is at the discretion of the branch staff or Specialist librarian.

This level is dependant on staffing availability and the volume of business at the circulation desk.

Local & Family History Services at Tablelands Regional Library Service consist of four components:

- The acquisition, preservation and promotion of the Tablelands Regional Library Service Local & Family History collection - as outlined in the Local & Family History Collection Development Policy
- Local & Family History reference queries - brief or detailed
- Local & Family History self help resources including access to microfilms from Family Search (LDS)
- Local & Family History Reader's Advisory

7.1 Local & Family History Enquiries - Brief

- All Tablelands Regional Library staff will assist in answering online, phone or in person Local & Family History enquiries where these involve locating brief information from sources available in the library
- As a guide, locating brief information from sources available in the library is limited to 5-10 minutes per enquiry

7.2 Local & Family History Enquiries - Detailed

Detailed Local & Family History enquiries may be passed on to the Local and Family History Librarian.

As a guide, staff assistance for extended Local & Family History enquiries is limited to approximately twenty minutes.

Extended Local & Family History enquiries may also be answered at a later time. Customer details will be taken and the customer contacted when the results are available

7.3 Local & Family History Self Help Resources

Library staff are available to provide brief education and assistance with self-help resources.

These include:

- Online resources such as Ancestry, Find My Past, State Library of Queensland links, National Library (Trove).
  - Ancestry handout
Local & Family History Services Policy
